

UNDERSTANDING YOUR SOIL SAMPLE RESULTS

DTSC is hosting a series of community meetings in an effort to help residents understand their soil sampling results. In some cases, community members have expressed questions about the levels identified in their results, and what the levels represent. To address this concern DTSC wants to provide times for person-to-person discussions on the subject. If you have received your results and have questions about the information received, please join us by attending one of these meetings. All of these meetings will take the same format, and will allow time for questions, as well as detailed interactions with the resident. Meeting dates, times, and locations are provided below:
